

University clinics manage high volumes of student appointments, reminders, and health-related notifications. Manual messaging is time consuming and prone to errors, which can lead to missed appointments and incomplete information.

SimplyCast's Clinic Notifications solution automates appointment confirmations, reminders, and event communications, allowing clinic staff to reduce administrative workload while delivering timely, accurate updates to students.

Reporting & Insights

Engagement reports show message delivery, opens, and click-throughs, supporting continuous improvement.

Automated Confirmations

Once submitted, students receive automatic appointment confirmations without staff intervention.

Personalized Reminders

Automated reminders deliver appointment details and required protocols, helping reduce missed appointments.

Campus Health Alerts

Clinics can notify students about vaccination clinics, testing days, and other campus health events using scheduled templates.

Online Booking

Appointments are booked through an online form that captures required details and stores them in a centralized database.
